JFY 2021

Course No.: 202003197-J001

Course Period in Japan:

From September 26, 2021, to September 16, 2022

This information pertains to one of the JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), which shall be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between both Governments.

'JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (KCCP)' as a New Start

In the Development Cooperation Charter which was released from the Japanese Cabinet on February 2015, it is clearly pointed out that "In its development cooperation, Japan has maintained the spirit of jointly creating things that suit partner countries while respecting ownership, intentions and intrinsic characteristics of the country concerned based on a field-oriented approach through dialogue and collaboration. It has also maintained the approach of building reciprocal relationships with developing countries in which both sides learn from each other and grow and develop together." We believe that this 'Knowledge Co-Creation Program' will serve as a center of mutual learning process.

I. Concept

Background

The Asian region is home to some of the world's most congested sea-lanes, such as the Malacca and Singapore Straits and the Indian Ocean, and it is an extremely important region for maritime transportation of energy resources, food, commodities, and other products. Asian countries have experienced remarkable economic growth in recent years and trouble-free maritime transportation has become important not only for their own prosperity, but also for that of the world economy. In order to achieve stable transportation in these sea-lanes, it is imperative that coastal states proactively address maritime issues such as piracy, illegal migration, smuggling, maritime disasters, and environmental protection.

Given the circumstances mentioned above, in an effort to preserve and develop maritime international order, we need to establish international maritime norms based on the rule of law. Japan is taking the lead in this area by offering advanced training for junior officers working in maritime safety and security related organizations in Japan and other Asian countries, which bridges the practical and theoretical aspects of maritime safety and security. By examining international relations, maritime issues, international laws and other relevant issues, this training program aims to develop personnel with advanced capabilities required to plan and formulate their country's maritime policies, which will contribute to steady growth and international order in the region.

For what?

This training program aims to develop personnel with advanced practical knowledge, analytical and problem-solving skills, and the ability to communicate effectively in an international environment. This program will also help develop a sense of partnership and mutual understanding among participants, thereby strengthening the collaborative relationships among the participants' countries.

For whom?

This program is designed for junior officers of maritime safety and security related organizations in Asian countries.

How ?

The Maritime Safety and Security Policy Program is designed to prepare policymaking specialists in the field of maritime safety and security by providing training and education that utilizes the expertise of both the National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS) and the Japan Coast Guard (JCG). GRIPS will provide the most essential curriculum in policymaking and international relations, while the Japan Coast Guard Academy (JCGA), an educational facility of the JCG, will provide training and practical education in maritime safety and security. Participants will also conduct case studies to strengthen their knowledge and relevant skills. This is the master's program conducted within a framework of JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus). Research guidance will be, therefore, provided as provided for a master's student at a regular graduate school. Participants will write a research paper about a specific issue in accordance with the guidance and advice they will receive from their academic advisers over the course of the program.

Academic Degree

The curriculum of this program has been approved by the National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS) and the Japan Coast Guard Academy (JCGA) as that of a master's program. After completing all graduation requirements, participants will be awarded the degree of Master of Policy Studies.

The program is very demanding. Applicants should possess an excellent educational and professional background, be highly motivated, and have confidence in their ability to fulfill the requirements of the program.

1. TOEFL iBT: 79 or higher
2. IELTS Academic: 6.0 or higher

A TOEFL test score must be sent directly to JICA Chugoku by post from the test center (JICA Chugoku institution code for TOEFL is C237). A TOEFL test score sent by applicants will not be accepted.

Please note that English test scores are valid for two years from the test date, and therefore, tests must have been taken within two years of the time of enrollment at GRIPS.

TOEFL PBT, revised TOEFL Paper-delivered Test and TOEFL ITP scores are not acceptable.

How to apply for a waiver of the English language proficiency requirement

(There are two categories in our English test exemption policy.)

Category 1: Applicants who have completed or expect to complete an undergraduate or graduate degree at an accredited institution located in the USA, the UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, or Ireland will be automatically exempted from submitting an English test score.

Category 2: Applicants who have completed or expect to complete an undergraduate or graduate degree at an institution where the language of instruction is English may request a waiver of the English language proficiency requirement.

If you wish to apply for such a waiver, you must submit, as evidence, official documents issued by the educational institution you attended, certifying that your undergraduate or graduate education was conducted entirely in English. If the official transcript of your academic record or graduation/degree certificate includes that information, you need not submit a separate document.

This document must bear the seal or signature of the registrar, and it must be submitted in a sealed, unopened envelope with the university logo and address noted; the envelope must be signed or stamped across the flap by the issuing school authority.

You are advised to show these instructions to the registrar at the university that you attended when you request issuance of the document in accordance with our requirements.

JICA and Capacity Development

The key concept underpinning JICA operations since its establishment in 1974 has been the conviction that “capacity development” is central to the socioeconomic development of any country, regardless of the specific operational scheme one may be undertaking, i.e. expert assignments, development projects, development study projects, training programs, JOCV programs, etc.

Within this wide range of programs, Training Programs have long occupied an important place in JICA operations. Conducted in Japan, they provide partner countries with opportunities to acquire practical knowledge accumulated in Japanese society. Participants dispatched by partner countries might find useful knowledge and re-create their own knowledge for enhancement of their own capacity or that of the organization and society to which they belong.

About 460 pre-organized programs cover a wide range of professional fields, ranging from education, health, infrastructure, energy, trade and finance, to agriculture, rural development, gender mainstreaming, and environmental protection. A variety of programs are being customized to address the specific needs of different target organizations, such as policy-making organizations, service provision organizations, as well as research and academic institutions. Some programs are organized to target a certain group of countries with similar developmental challenges.

Japanese Development Experience

Japan was the first non-Western country to successfully modernize its society and industrialize its economy. At the core of this process, which started more than 140 years ago, was the “adopt and adapt” concept by which a wide range of appropriate skills and knowledge have been imported from developed countries; these skills and knowledge have been adapted and/or improved using local skills, knowledge and initiatives. They finally became internalized in Japanese society to suit its local needs and conditions.

From engineering technology to production management methods, most of the know-how that has enabled Japan to become what it is today has emanated from this “adoption and adaptation” process, which, of course, has been accompanied by countless failures and errors behind the success stories. We presume that such experiences, both successful and unsuccessful, will be useful to our partners who are trying to address the challenges currently faced by developing countries.

However, it is rather challenging to share with our partners this whole body of Japan’s developmental experience. This difficulty has to do, in part, with the challenge of explaining a body of “tacit knowledge,” a type of knowledge that cannot fully be expressed in words or numbers. Adding to this difficulty are the social and cultural systems of Japan that vastly differ from those of other Western industrialized countries, and hence still remain unfamiliar to many partner countries. Simply stated, coming to Japan might be one way of overcoming such a cultural gap.

JICA, therefore, would like to invite as many leaders of partner countries as possible to come and visit us, to mingle with the Japanese people, and witness the advantages as well as the disadvantages of Japanese systems, so that integration of their findings might help them reach their developmental objectives.
